Excerpt: . . . 26th of June other blockades in the Baltic had been established by the combined fleets. Then followed the usual notification. The Gazette of Aug. 11 was of great importance; it bore on several questions which had been agitated in these cases. It published, with reference to the notification published in previous Gazettes official letters from Sir C. Napier, Mr. Hertslet, and Captain Key. A very vehement argument was addressed to the court with reference to these documents. What were the inferences to be drawn from these facts First, it was abundantly clear that any blockade constituted by Sir C. Napier would acquire no legal validity in addition to what it originally possessed, or by way of confirmation and approbation of the exercise of the authority given to him, before the actual publication in the Gazette; or, in other words, the Gazette could not convert...
