Thank you, Madam Chairwoman and Ranking LARKE Member Chabot, for holding this very important hearing. The Real Estate Settlement Procedures Act is a vital tool in the American home-buying process. Most importantly, small busi-nesses, such as title insurance companies and title agents, are im-portant in the settlement and closing costs of residential mort-gages. I believe that more transparent information could enhance consumer shopping and could discourage predatory, discriminatory and fraudulent lending processes. So it is my hope that this concern is at the center of all that we understand the impact of HUDs proposed rule on small entities will address as this is a very important component of the subprime mortgage crisis and its predatory lending. Ms. Jackson, I just have a couple of questions for you. First, can you explain to me how the proposed Good Faith Estimate is shorter or less complicated ACKSON Ms. J. Well, borrowers would be able, if they wished, to just take the first page and to use that to compare costs and loan terms from different lenders since the loan terms are all on this first page, the important ones that we believe, like Is there a pre-payment penalty Can the interest rate go up What is the be-ginning interest rate Then at the bottom, there is a total of their costs. Page 2, of course, then goes into more detail...
