Brand New Book  Print on Demand .Excerpt from The Red Lady I remember the hollowness of purse and stomach, and the dullness of head. I even remember wondering that hair like mine, so conspicuously golden-red, could possibly keep its flame under such conditions. And halfway down the block, how very well I remember the decent-looking, black-clad woman who touched my arm, looked me hard in the face, and said, A message for you, madam. She got away so quickly that I had not opened the blank envelope before she was round the corner and out of sight. The envelope contained a slip of white paper on which was neatly printed in pen and ink: Excellent position vacant at The Pines, Pine Cone, N.C. Mrs. Theodore Brane wants housekeeper. Apply at once. This was not signed at all. I thought: Some one is thinking kindly of me, after all. Some old-time friend of my father's, perhaps, has sent a servant to me with this message. I returned to my third-story back hall-bedroom and wrote at once, offering my services and sending my...
