All kinds of troubles experienced in the running of machinery that we have furnished, particularly troubles in starting up new machinery, are shifted on to us as machinery men. Careful study and observation covering a number of years have made it quite clear that the large majority of these troubles is directly traceable to variations in humidity and temperature, from hour to hour and from day to day. This conclusion was forced upon me even before sufficient data had been collected to prove the point; for - Why is it, in a mill making the same thing the year through, with the same cotton, the same organization of machinery with reference to speeds, drafts, weights, and other like details, that the work runs differently from day to day, and even that overseers complain...
